

In uncertain times, it's important to focus on what it is you want to accomplish.

You know your goal. You had a plan to reach it. Then COVID-19 turned the world upside-down.

Online learning and closed college campuses might have made you feel differently about your plans for the next school year.

But that goal is still there, waiting to be achieved.

Whether you're an incoming freshman or an uncertain graduate, we can help you forge a new path. Our college-preparatory academics and accelerated arts curriculum are the conduit to your future. And if you're feeling uncertain about college, a postgraduate year at Interlochen may give you the space to renew academically, artistically, and personally.

Interlochen Center for the Arts and Boston University Tanglewood Institute share a long history and hundreds of student musicians who value their experiences with both organizations.

And now, Interlochen is offering 2020 BUTI students a minimum $10,000 scholarship to the Arts Academy. Upon successful completion of the Fall 2020 Academy application, students will remain eligible for additional need and merit based aid.

Right now, it's difficult to imagine where we'll be next week, much less next fall. But we are committed to being here, on campus, for any student who is ready to take the next step.
