

K Award Mentoring Workshops

The Providence/Boston Center for AIDS Research (CFAR) is offering a six-month proposal development curriculum for post-doctoral fellows and junior faculty planning to submit a K award application on HIV/AIDS to NIH for funding.

This six-month proposal development curriculum is characterized by milestone driven progress and formal review by an advisory board of 3-5 advisors. Trainees will apply to the program with an identified primary mentor. Below is the schedule of meetings based on the NIH grant submission cycles.

CYCLE I	May 7th
Trainees enroll with mentor	December 28th
Specific aims page first review	Jan 8th
Full proposal for mock review	Mar 12th
CYCLE II	Sept 7th
Trainees enroll with mentor	Mar 7th
Specific aims page first review	May 7th
Full proposal for mock review	Jul 22nd
CYCLE III	Jan 7th
Trainees enroll with mentor	Aug 31st
Specific aims page first review	Sep 10th
Full proposal for mock review	Nov 19th

Check out the CFAR website (www.ProvBosCFAR.org) for more details on the specific program.

Are you planning on submitting an HIV/AIDS related K award application to NIH for the January 7, 2022 deadline?

Would you like to receive guidance from a panel of senior HIV investigators?

What about a mock review of your application before submission to NIH?

Sign up TODAY for the K-Award Workshop beginning on September 10th

REGISTER

PROVIDENCE/BOSTON CFAR
164 Summit Avenue
CFAR Bldg, #134
Providence, RI
cfar@lifespan.org
www.ProvBosCFAR.org

