

Anne-Marie Codur

amcodur@ume.org
617 938 8190

16 Edwin Street #1
Brookline, MA, 02445.

Academic expertise/experience :

Sustainable Development Policies, Ecological Economics, Climate Policies, with a special focus on natural solutions to the climate crisis (soil regeneration, reforestation, etc.)

2011-current: Global Development and Environment Institute, Tufts University,

Research associate – contributing to developing textbooks , teaching modules and policy briefs on most pressing environmental issues, for students and practitioners of sustainable development policies; with a special focus on Climate policies.

http://www.ase.tufts.edu/gdae/education_materials/modules.html

NGO leadership and experience

Peace Education, Nonviolent Action, with a special focus on the Middle East and North Africa

1997-current, University of the Middle East Project (UME)

Co-founder, and current Chair of the Board of Directors. Executive Director (2005-2008) and Academic Director (1999-2005)

UME has trained over one thousand educators and civil society leaders from the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) empowering them and the youth they teach with skills fostering critical thinking, leadership, problem solving, conflict resolution, through more than 40 programs on civic engagement and peace education

www.ume.org

2009-current: International Center on Non Violent Conflict (ICNC), Academic Advisor

Research and Training of activists, academics, journalists, and civil society leaders from around the world on strategies of nonviolent action and civil resistance - development of pedagogical materials disseminating the methods and analysis of strategic nonviolent action – with a special emphasis on 1) movements in the Middle East and North Africa; 2) the role of women leadership in nonviolent movements; 3) the role of cultural resistance.

<https://www.nonviolent-conflict.org/>

Citizen movements and activism

2014-current : Les Dialogues en humanité

North American coordinator of the global citizen network of Dialogues en humanité – composed of concerned and responsible citizens throughout the world for the emergence of a Global Civic Society based on the universal values of human rights and ecological sustainability.

<http://dialoguesenhumanite.org/>

EDUCATION

Harvard University, Post-doctoral Fellow, Center for Population Studies

Institut d'Etudes Politiques de Paris, Ph.D. of Economics, thesis on the concept of sustainable development in a systemic approach.

Université de Paris-I Panthéon Sorbonne : Masters in Economics of the Environment and Natural Resources

Université de Paris IV-Sorbonne: BA in History

Ecole Nationale de la Statistique et de l'Administration Economique, Paris : BS in Statistics

LANGUAGES

French: native language; Fluent in English; Proficient in Spanish

SELECTED PUBLICATIONS

Climate Change: new urgency, new opportunities. GDAE Climate Policy #11, 2019.

Climate smart or regenerative agriculture? Defining new climate policies based on soil health. with Josephine Watson. GDAE Climate Policy Brief #9, April 2018.

Hope Below Our Feet: Soil as a Climate Solution, Climate Policy Brief #4, April 2017

Bonn Climate Conference Confronts New Urgency, Anne-Marie Codur and Jonathan Harris, GDAE Climate Policy Brief #5, November 2017

After Paris: The New Landscape for Climate Policy. Anne-Marie Codur, William Moomaw and Jonathan Harris, GDAE Climate Policy Brief #2, Feb. 2016

Soils, Agriculture and Climate Change – GDAE teaching module, by Anne-Marie Codur, Kayleigh Fay, and Jonathan Harris, forthcoming, 2019.

Water: Economics and Policy – GDAE teaching module, by Anne-Marie Codur, Jonathan M. Harris and Brian Roach, 2015.

“Economics of Climate Change”, with J. Harris and B. Roach, Encyclopaedia of the Earth, 2013, updated in 2017.