

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS IN ECONOMICS

To graduate with distinction, students must complete a thesis, which will be presented to a committee of three economics faculty in late April. The committee will consider both the thesis and the result of the oral examination to determine whether the student will receive honors. A grade of B+ or better in both EC401 and EC402 is also required to receive honors, in addition to a GPA of 3.5 or better in economics classes (including required mathematics and statistics classes).

Writing an honors thesis provides an opportunity for seniors in the College of Arts and Sciences to conduct in-depth research in their major. It is the most stimulating intellectual enterprise in which an undergraduate can engage, demanding dedication and the ability to exercise independent judgment. The thesis project is designed for seniors to work on a two-semester project while on campus during their final two semesters. Both the faculty advisor and student have to be on campus while working on the project.

Application Guidelines & Instructions

Please complete the attached application for Departmental Honors in Economics in consultation with the Director of Undergraduate Studies (Professor Todd Idson) and the Faculty Project Advisor. You must choose a faculty advisor who is a full-time CAS faculty member. The materials to be included in your application are listed on the second page of the application. All must be forwarded to the Faculty Advisor who, after approval, will forward the application and materials to the Director.

Deadlines to submit applications for the Departmental Honors project beginning:

FALL	May 1st*
SPRING	November 1st*

*If you need an extension, please contact Professor Idson before the deadline.
Applications MUST be processed by the last day to add courses of the semester you begin the project.

Each applicant will be notified of acceptance or rejection by email. If accepted into the program, the Academic Advisor will add the appropriate courses (EC401, EC402) to the student's schedule.
