

Rising second year PHD students Shutao Xu, Shuqi Zheng, Joseph Greene and Bingxue Liu were invited into the Boston University NSF NRT UtB: Neurophotonics National Research Traineeship Program. Through this program, trainees will have many benefits and opportunities to further their research and studies, some of which include the following: professional development, mentoring, and the opportunity to travel to national conferences and present their research. More information regarding the program can be found here.