

Building Partnerships in the Americas A Guide for Global Health Workers

AN EVENING WITH THE AUTHORS

Saturday, September 7, 7:30 – 9:00 pm

AIC Center - Event Space

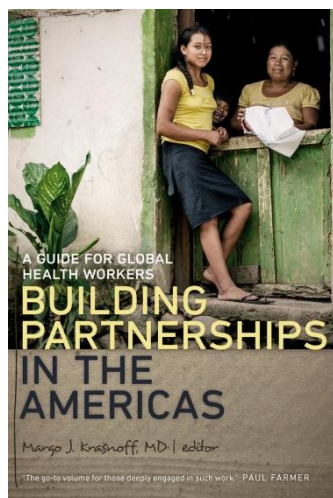

38 Newbury St., 7th Floor, Boston (between Arlington & Berkeley Streets)

Please register: www.mayahealth.org/authors

Books will be available for sale at the event.

The event is free of charge and refreshments will be served.

PRESENTERS

Margo J. Krasnoff MD – Geisel School of Medicine (Book Editor and Coauthor of Chapter 5: Nicaragua)

Dan Palazuelos MD, MPH – Harvard University, Partners In Health (Coauthor of Chapter 1: Mexico)

Peter Rohloff MD, Ph.D. – Harvard University, Maya Health Alliance (Coauthor of Chapter 2: Guatemala)

Lanny Smith MD, MPH and Denise Zwahlen PA, MPH – Doctors for Global Health (Coauthor and Contributor to Chapter 3: El Salvador)

Karen Sadler MD (Coauthor of Chapter 8: Dominican Republic)

“This book answers a great, and until now unmet, need. For all those who ask what to read before going to work in these settings, Building Partnerships in the Americas is the answer. It’s sure to become the go-to volume for those deeply engaged in such work.” — Paul Farmer, MD, Harvard University, Partners In Health

“This remarkable book is required reading for anyone interested in the reality of health work in Mexico, Central America, and the Caribbean. It conveys truly essential information and does so with the humility and humane commitment to service and social justice that true solidarity demands.”

— Paul H. Wise, MD, MPH, Stanford University