

Join the Stop the Transmission of Polio (STOP) Program and help to eradicate polio from the world!

COMMUNICATION POSITION

Application Deadline: December 1, 2013- January 17, 2014

Background: The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)'s Global Immunization Division's Stop the Transmission of Polio (STOP) program was created in 1999 as part of the CDC's efforts to assist the Global Polio Eradication Initiative (GPEI). Since then, STOP has trained and deployed 42 teams –comprised of more than 2,000 volunteers – to 63 countries around the world.

Key responsibilities: STOP is recruiting qualified communication staff to participate in STOP teams. STOP communication participants will assist WHO, UNICEF, and Ministries of Health by:

- Providing social mobilization and communication technical expertise at all levels and support to all polio eradication stakeholders to galvanize community demand for child immunization and acceptance of the polio vaccine.
- Undertaking field trips, meetings with influential persons and assessments to develop and implement national and sub-national social mobilization and communication plans.
- Assessing ground situations to develop appropriate messages and materials for community members, influential persons, healthcare providers, vaccinators and the media and support dissemination of the same.
- Serving on committees and forums to ensure effective coordination among various communications partners.
- Supporting communication personnel at national and local levels to develop, test and implement strategies and plans for social mobilization and communication.
- Sharing of expertise, information and experience and capacity building of national colleagues and partners for sustainable and community owned and driven polio eradication program.
- Supporting government and partners in advocacy, documentation, monitoring and evaluation, management and dissemination.

Qualifications:

- STOP communication participants must be extremely flexible self-starters who work well under difficult conditions with people of different cultures.
- Qualified applicants have a minimum of five years related experience and speak English, French, Portuguese, Arabic or Hausa fluently.

To Apply:

For more information and to apply for the upcoming June 2014 STOP assignment, please visit the STOP website at: <http://www.cdc.gov/polio/stop/>. Please note that applications for the June 2014 team will only be accepted between December 1, 2013 and January 17, 2014.