

Concord Museum

The Concord Museum educates visitors of all ages about the history of Concord and its continuing influence on American political, literary and cultural life. The Museum's nationally significant collection serves as a catalyst for changing exhibitions, extended classroom learning, dynamic programs and publications relevant to an ever-changing world. The Museum seeks a curatorial intern to work on research for an upcoming special exhibition in 2026 that will commemorate the 250th anniversary of the American Revolution and explore themes of memory, mythmaking, and the legacy of the Revolution today. The curatorial intern will have the opportunity to complete research and draft exhibition labels for a significant public-facing project, as well as learn more about related initiatives in education, public programs, and other departments across the Concord Museum.
