

Boston By Foot

Boston By Foot, Inc. (BBF) is an educational nonprofit organization dedicated to inspiring locals and visitors to discover and appreciate the diverse stories of Boston by exploring the cityscape together. Boston By Foot depends on the time and talents of its staff and over 200 volunteers to support its mission-driven programming and operations.

BBF seeks an intern to join our team and support the research that will shape future walking tours and public programs. The intern will collaborate closely with staff and volunteers to explore historical topics through archival research, review of secondary sources, and interviews with experts or individuals with lived experience.

Interns will have the opportunity to select a research focus from a list of priority topics (most centered on Boston's neighborhoods or themes in social history) and will synthesize their findings into engaging, public-facing materials for use in blog posts, lectures, videos, and upcoming tours. In addition, the intern will be welcome to participate in BBF walking tours and to collaborate with volunteers and staff on other projects of interest.
