PLEASE JOIN US FOR A DINNER PANEL on immigration and the ministry with unaccompanied minors from Central America

Thursday, OCTOBER 3, 2019

5:30PM-7:00PM

745 COMMON WEALTH AVE.

STH Community Center

Panelist, Damariz Itzel Posadas Aparicio was born in Mexico but immigrated to the United States at the age of three. Damariz was raised in Chicago where she eventually became active in social justice work with Lincoln United Methodist Church in Pilsen Chicago. Currently, Damariz is a first-year Master of Theological Studies at Boston University School of Theology. She hopes to one day be able to teach people how the bible can be used as a tool to free the oppressed and she hopes to continue the political work her church has done.

Panelist, David Jaimes was born in Lima, Peru but raised in Orange County, California. David serves as a community organizer for Santa Ana United Methodist Church as well as program coordinator for "No Están Solos", a ministry for unaccompanied minors from Central America with the California Pacific Conference of the UMC. He is currently pursuing ordination with United Methodist Church and earning his Master of Divinity at Fuller Theological Seminary.

Moderator, Reverend Dr. Cristian De La Rosa, before her appointment at Boston University she served as Director of Continuing Education and Course of Study School at Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary and with AETH as the National Director for Tertulias Pastorales. Dr. De La Rosa received her PhD in Theology and Ethics from Chicago Theological Seminary where her dissertation focused on contextual dynamics of power and agency.
