Established in 1962, Universidad de Lima has earned a strong reputation based on its educational purpose aimed to innovation and synergy between the academic field and the local business activity.

At Universidad de Lima we are committed to providing truly international education, inspiring our students, producing world-leading research and benefiting communities. Our purpose is to improve life for individuals and we are committed to the development and integration of our society.

Universidad de Lima invites all the students to the Short Field Programs in Peru.

DESCRIPTION

Universidad de Lima presents to international students the opportunity to participate in specialized programs:

1. Culture Program	(History, Art, Cosmovision, Survival Spanish)
2. Business Program in Peru	• Intercultural business management.
	• Globalization and the emerging markets
	• Peru as an opportunity for making business
	• International trade in Latin America
3. Sustainability Program	• Management for the sustainable development of Peru.
	• Market Decision Making in emerging countries.
	• Processes and operations planning in Latin America markets

These programs will be organized according to the requirements of each university. Dates are flexible and will be agreed by both institutions.

Students will learn about the Peruvian Culture, Business or Sustainability in Peru. It is an excellent opportunity to learn about special topics with international quality.
