

Beyond Bad Apples: Exploring the Legal Determinants of Police Violence

Tentative Schedule as of 10/24/19 (Subject to Change)

Friday, October 25, 2019

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                           |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|
| 8:30 - 9:00am - Coffee and pastries available                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | BU Law Atrium, 1 st Floor      |
| 9:00 am- Opening &amp; Welcome Remarks: Karen Pita Loor, Osagie K. Obasogie &amp; Joseph Bacchi                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Classroom 103                             |
| 9:10 - 9:55am Opening Lecture: Paul Butler, Georgetown Law                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Classroom 103                             |
| Short Coffee Break                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                           |
| 10:00 - 11:00am - Panel 1: Doctrinal Determinants of Police Violencea. Jonathan Simon, Berkeley Lawb. Karen Pita Loor, BU Lawc. Trevor Gardner, Wash U LawModerator: Ahmed Ghappour, BU Law                                                                                                                                    | Classroom 103                             |
| 11:00 - 11:15am Coffee Break                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | BU Law Atrium 1 st Floor       |
| 11:15am - 12:30pm Panel 2: Law, Excessive Force, and Community Impacta. Nicole Gonzalez Van Cleve, Brown University Department of Sociologyb. Jeannine Bell, Indiana Lawc. Jeff Fagan, Columbia Lawd. Tom Tyler, Yale LawModerator: Tracey Maclin, BU Law                                                           | Classroom 103                             |
| 12:35 – 1:30pm Lunch                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Barristers Hall, 1 st Floor    |
| 12:55pm - Welcome from Dean Angela Onwuachi- Willig                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Barristers Hall, 1 st Floor    |
| 1:30 - 2:15pm Afternoon Lecture: Tracey Meares, Yale Law                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Classroom 103                             |
| 2:20 - 3:35pm - Panel 3: Graham, Police Violence, and Health Impactsa. Denise Herd, Berkeley School of Public Healthb. Erin Kerrison, Berkeley School of Social Welfarec. Michael Siegel, BU School of Public Healthd. Chandra Ford, UCLA School of Public HealthModerator: Aziza Ahmed, Northeastern School of Law | Classroom 103                             |
| 3:35 - 3:45pm Coffee Break                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | BU Law Atrium, 1 st Floor      |
| 3:45 - 5:00pm – Panel 4: Rethinking Graham: Changing Law to Change Outcomesa. Derecka Purnell, Union Theological Seminaryb. Jennifer Chacón, UCLA Lawc. Somil Trivedi, ACLUModerator: Ayesha B. Hardaway, Case Western Reserve School of Law                                                                                   | Classroom 103                             |
| 5:05 - 5:50pm - Closing lecture - Devon Carbado, UCLA Law                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Classroom 103                             |
| 5:50pm – Closing Remarks                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                           |
| 6:00 - 7:00pm – Reception                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Charles River Room, 5 th Floor |