

Paul Isaac Ewenstein

Education

Ph.D., Political Science, Boston University, 2011

Revolution, War, and Offensive Realism

B.A., Political Science, Tufts University, 2002

Teaching Positions

2020-Present

- Pardee School for Global Studies, Boston University, Instructor
 - International Politics

2016-Present

- Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, Wentworth University, Instructor
 - American Politics
 - Introduction to Ethics

2010-2018

- Department of Political Science, Framingham State University, Assistant Professor/
Visiting Lecturer
 - Introduction to American Politics
 - Introduction to World Politics
 - Comparative Political Systems
 - Justice, Law, and Order
 - Legislative Politics
 - The Presidency
 - Campaigns and Election Strategy
 - Politics and Film
 - Seminar in Political Science: Middle Eastern Politics

2011-2014

- College of Professional Studies, Northeastern University, Instructor
 - Conflict and Post-Conflict Development
 - Peace and Conflict
 - Divided Societies in the Modern World
 - Master's Thesis Advisor

2011

- Department of Political Science, Lesley University, Instructor
 - Introduction to Political Science

2007

- Department of Political Science, Boston University, Instructor
 - United States Foreign Policy Since 1898

Publications

- Ewenstein, Paul. "Realism and Revolution: Why (Some) Revolutionary States Go to War" (Book, Published 2020 by Peter Lang Publishing)

Conference Papers & Invited Engagements

- Ewenstein, Paul. "Offensive Realism and Revolution," The Midwest Political Science Association Conference in Chicago, Illinois (April, 2010)
- Ewenstein, Paul. "Offensive Realism and the French Revolutions," The Midwest Political Science Association Conference in Chicago, Illinois (April, 2011)
- Ewenstein, Paul. "The Arab Spring and the Prospects for Interstate War," The Northeastern Political Science Association Conference in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania (November, 2011)
- Ewenstein, Paul. "Bargaining and Revolutionary War," The Northeastern Political Science Association Conference in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania (November, 2011)
- Ewenstein, Paul. "The Arab Spring and the Revolutions of 1848," The New England Political Science Association Conference in Portland, Maine (April, 2012)
- Ewenstein, Paul. "Revolutions and Armed Conflict: A Historical and Theoretical Perspective," The American Political Science Association Conference in New Orleans, Louisiana (August, 2012)
- Ewenstein, Paul. "Revolutions and Interstate Violence: A Quantitative Study," The Midwest Political Science Association Conference in Chicago, Illinois (April, 2013)
- Ewenstein, Paul, Hmouz, Sandrela "Caught Between Nationalism and Tradition: The Participation of Women in Palestinian Political Movements," The Northeastern Political Science Association Conference in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania (November, 2014)
- Ewenstein, Paul. "The Arab Spring and the Revolutions of 1848 Reconsidered," The New England Political Science Association Conference in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania (November, 2017)
- Ewenstein, Paul. "Revolution and Interstate Conflict: Types and Time Scales," The Midwest Political Science Association Conference in Chicago, Illinois (April, 2019)
- Ewenstein, Paul. "To A Man With a Hammer: Differences Between Wars and Militarized Interstate Disputes," The 2019 Northeastern Political Science Association Conference (November, 2019)

Manuscript Reviewer

- European Journal of International Relations, 2011

Professional Memberships

- American Political Science Association
- Midwestern Political Science Association
- Northeastern Political Science Association