THE PHOTOGRAPHIC RESOURCE CENTER PRESENTS
A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY TO COLLECT FINE ART PHOTOGRAPHY
2002 Members’ Print Program includes Abelardo Morell and David Armstrong

BOSTON—On June 13, 2002, 5:30–7:30pm, in conjunction with the opening reception for the PRC Members’ Exhibition, the Photographic Resource Center at Boston University (PRC) will introduce its 16th annual Members Print Program. The Members’ Print Program offers limited edition photographic prints by acclaimed national and regional artists to upper-level PRC members. Proceeds from the program support the exhibition, education, and library programs at the PRC.

Exclusive to this year’s program is work by David Armstrong, Pamela Ellis Hawkes, Emily Kahn, Rodger Kingston, Eric Lewandowski, Abelardo Morell, and Karin Rosenthal. Also featured will be two previously offered photographs by Frank Gohlke and David Levinthal. The photographs can be previewed at the PRC and online at www.prcboston.org.

Over the years, the PRC has made high-quality, limited edition artwork accessible to members and the general public through a variety of fund-raising events. The Members’ Print Program, like the PRC’s benefit auction, is a great opportunity to start or supplement a fine art collection. Since the program’s inception, nearly 100 prints by well-known and emerging photographers have been offered.

In addition to receiving a fine art print, upper level PRC members enjoy additional membership benefits including free admission to the PRC and select photography institutions across the nation, discounts on workshop and lecture fees, multiple opportunities to exhibit work, and a subscription to the PRC’s bi-monthly newsletter, in the loupe. Additional membership information can be found online at www.prcboston.org.

The following list indicates which photographer’s prints are available at the various upper level membership categories:
