

Russ Wilcox is a general partner at Pillar VC and a prior serial entrepreneur. He was co-founder and CEO of E Ink, makers of electronic paper, which he grew to $200 million in profitable revenue. Since selling E Ink in 2010, he has focused on backing the next generation of local founders, primarily in areas where Boston is strong such as software, AI, hardware, synbio, Agtech, robotics, 3D, blockchain, fintech, and marketplaces. Russ has cofounded or invested in many university spinouts.