

AHS: Fellowship & Fare Series!

Dr. Courtney Goto "Learning Self-Care: The Case of the Bumbling Goddesses"

Join us for
Dr. Goto's discussion over a light lunch,
followed by time
for discussion and reflection.

Thursday
September 22, 2011
12:45-1:30p.m.

Anna Howard Shaw Center
STH Room 320

Dr. Courtney Goto joined the BUSTH faculty as Assistant Professor of Religious Education in the fall 2010. She is a co-Director for the Center for Practical Theology. Her dissertation, entitled "Artistic Play: Seeking the God of the Unexpected," sets forth a practical theology of play through art. In this intersection of art and play, Dr. Goto explores issues of body, imagination, teaching, and learning in adult spiritual formation in two case studies—InterPlay and the Sacramento Japanese United Methodist Church. Dr. Goto is a former managing editor of Practical Matters, a peer-reviewed, online multidisciplinary journal for religious practices and practical theology. She has done extensive international social justice work representing the United Methodist Church and the World Council of Churches.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY