

AHS: Fellowship & Fare Series

Rev. Jean Halligan Vandergrift : "Changing Church: Why should we and how?"

- Come share your stories of congregations in decline and those opting for new life.

- What is your vision of church and the new church that may be trying to be born in our time?

- Talk about the kind of leaders such transformation requires and what may be some of the key elements in the journey of a changing church.

Thursday

April 8, 2010

12:30p.m.-1:15p.m.

Anna Howard Shaw Center

STH Rm 320

*Join us
for food,
conversation,
and reflection.*

The Rev. Jean Halligan Vandergrift is a PhD candidate in Practical Theology at BUSTH, with a concentration in Congregations and Community. She is working on her dissertation, which is a practical theology of congregational transformation. She is an ordained minister in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) and has served pastorates in Kentucky, North Carolina, and Washington, as well as a mission appointment in Paris, France. Jean and her husband, Steve, live in Boston, along with their cat, Blackie. They have one adult son, Nathan, who works in Boston.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY