STUDY/ACTION
APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION
1985-86

Admission Policy: The Women's Theological Center is committed to developing a learning community that is racially and economically diverse and that is based on shared power and access to decision-making. To that end, we have a rolling admissions procedure with the first admissions decisions being made after January, 1985. Enrollment is limited to twenty students.

I. Please describe your educational background and work experience, or attach a resume.

II. In attempting to create a pluralistic community that can work together around shared concerns, we need to know something about you. Please respond to the following, keeping in mind that we are not looking for "correct answers", but rather some sense of what is important to you.

- A. Please write a statement of not more than two pages about the central questions with which you are dealing at this point in your life.
- B. Please write not more than two pages on your thoughts/feelings about any two of the following statements.
 1. Religious institutions have an obligation to be in the political area.
 2. Feminism is a white, middle-class concern.
 3. The welfare system perpetuates poverty.
 4. The United States is a dangerous ally to have.
 5. Peace alone is insufficient.

III. Please ask three people to send us letters of recommendation for your participation in the program.

IV. If you wish to receive academic credit for your participation in Study/Action, please send a transcript of your most recent academic work.

V. Financial assistance is available in limited amounts. We urge all applicants to make every effort to secure the necessary funds for participation through their own sources (churches, community groups, loans, etc.) Study/Action participants are enrolled in the Episcopal Divinity School through the Women's Theological Center and can apply at their local banks for a Guaranteed Student Loan. If after pursuing all possible sources you need additional financial help, please complete the Study/Action financial assistance application.
