

Netiquette

The Boston University Office of Distance Education has produced a netiquette guide to help you understand the potential impact of your communication style.

Before posting to any discussion forum, sending email, or participating in any course or public area, please consider the following:

Before WRITING or READING a post, ask yourself:

- How would I say this in a face-to-face classroom or if writing for a newspaper, public blog, or wiki?
- How would I feel if I were the reader?
- How might my comment impact others?
- Am I being respectful?
- Is this the appropriate area or forum to post what I have to say?

When you are WRITING, please follow these rules:

- Stay polite and positive in your communications. You can and should disagree and participate in discussions with vigor; however, when able, be constructive with your comments.
- Proofread your comments before you post them. Remember that your comments are permanent.
- Pay attention to your tone. Without the benefit of facial expressions and body language your intended tone or the meaning of the message can be misconstrued.
- Be thoughtful and remember that classmates' experience levels may vary. You may want to include background information that is not obvious to all readers.

- Stay on message. When adding to existing messages, try to maintain the theme of the comments previously posted. If you want to change the topic, simply start another thread rather than disrupt the current conversation.
- When appropriate, cite sources. When referencing the work or opinions of others, make sure to use correct citations.

When you are READING your peers' communication, consider the following:

- Respect people's privacy. Don't assume that information shared with you is public; your peers may not want personal information shared. Please check with them before sharing their information.
- Be forgiving of other students' and instructor mistakes. There are many reasons for typos and misinterpretations. Be gracious and forgive others' mistakes or privately point them out politely.
- If a comment upsets or offends you, reread it and/or take some time before responding.

Important Note: Don't hesitate to let your instructor or student services coordinator know if you feel others are inappropriately commenting in any forum.

All Boston University students are required to follow academic and behavioral conduct codes. Failure to comply with these conduct codes may result in disciplinary action.
