Agency: NIH/NIAAA

Title: "The Alcohol and Other Drugs Education Program (ADEP) for Social Work Faculty"

The long term objective of the Alcohol Education program (ADEP) for Social Work Faculty is to promote the use of empirically-supported alcohol and other drugs (AOD) identification and treatment methods among social workers which is consistent with the NIAAA goal to promote the use of research to treat and prevent AOD abuse and dependence.

Total Costs: $242,072; Period: 1/15/2017-6/30/2018

Role: Principal Investigator

Agency: National Center for Advancing Translational Sciences (NIH)

Title: "Developing Collaborative Research Partnerships in Greater Boston"

With the support of the Boston University Clinical & Translational Science Institute, the objective of this KL2 Mentored Career Development Award is to support Boston University's most promising junior faculty translational researchers. The current project focuses on establishing collaborative research partnerships with Latino-focused youth organizations in Greater Boston with the long-term aim of developing a prevention program targeting substance use and violence among Latino adolescents.

Total direct costs: $83,500; Period: 4/1/2017-3/31/2018

R25 DA030310 (Contact PI: J. Anthony)

Agency: NIH/NIDA

Title: "Early Stage Mentoring for NIDA Research Program"

This mentoring program aims to expand and enhance research training opportunities for early-stage faculty investigators. This program complements the Interdisciplinary Research Training Institute (IRTI) on Hispanic Drug Abuse and provides mentoring for early career scientists already employed as faculty or research staff members of institutions that will sponsor their grant applications. Opportunities exist to develop grant applications/career development proposals, and support for pilot research and travel to scientific meetings.

Period: 07/01/2014-03/01/2018

Mental Health Research Grants (Contact PI: C. Salas-Wright)

Agency: Hogg Foundation for Mental Health

Title: "Substance Use Prevention for Student Veterans Experiencing Psychological Distress"

The goal of this study is to adapt and pretest a preventative substance use intervention with college student veterans experiencing psychological distress at UT Austin.

Total direct costs: $19,250; Period: 6/1/14-9/2/15

Role: Principal Investigator

Submitted: January 6, 2014

Pilot Research Grants (Contact PI: C. Salas-Wright)

Agency: St. David's Center for Health Promotion & Disease Prevention Research

Title: "Examining Hispanic Adolescent Alcohol Use and Health-Risk Behavior: The Feasibility of a Biobehavioral Approach"

The goal of this study is to examine the feasibility of biobehavioral research with Hispanic adolescents recruited from a clinical setting. Additionally, we will pilot test use of biomarkers, including: resting heart rate (biomarker for low reactivity), 2:4 digit scan (biomarker for prenatal testosterone exposure), and hair samples (examining cortisol, testosterone, and exposure to heavy metals).

Total direct costs: $25,000; Period: 1/1/14-09/01/15

Role: Principal Investigator

Submitted: October 14, 2014

R25 DA026401 (Contact PI: A. Valdez)

Agency: NIH / NIDA

Title: "Interdisciplinary Research Training Institute on Hispanic Drug Abuse"

The Interdisciplinary Research Training Institute (IRTI) on Hispanic Drug Abuse promoted the career development of pre-doctoral, postdoctoral and early career clinically-focused scientists interested in conducting research as it affects the Hispanic population. The grant provided mentorship and training to early career scientists in the domains of publications, presentations, and federal funding for research.

Agency: NIH / NIDA

Title: "Substance Abuse Intervention Outcome Research Training"

This training program addressed the significant and costly public health problem of substance abuse by training postdoctoral biomedical, biobehavioral, health care, and other public health scientists to conduct substance abuse intervention research. The training program drew on many scientific disciplines, including biological sciences, epidemiology, etiology, prevention, clinical, and public health research, and emphasizes multidisciplinary approaches to achieving innovations in substance abuse research.

Period: 8/1/12-6/1/13

Role: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

EARA/SRA Summer School (Contact PI: S. Russell)

Agency: Johan Jacobs Foundation

Title: Society for Research on Adolescence Summer Training Program

This training program provided intensive methodological and substantive instruction in research with adolescent populations. Program fellows receive funding for travel, food, and lodging as well as extensive mentorship from senior researchers in the field of developmental psychology.

Period: 5/16/11-5/21/11

Role: Junior Scholar

K01 Mentored Research Scientist Development Award (Contact PI: C. Salas-Wright)

Agency: NIH/NIAAA

Title: "Preventing Alcohol and Other Drug Use and Violence among Latino Youth"

The social costs of adolescent substance use and violence are staggering. At present, however, our ability to effectively prevent substance use and violence among Latino youth is limited. The overall objectives of this study are to adapt a school-based, SAMSHA model substance use intervention to include a focus on violence prevention. This includes research and training in the areas of qualitative research, intervention adaptation, and prevention implementation and outcomes research.

Agency: NIH/NICHD

Title: "Toward a Transnational Approach to Research with Migrant Youth"

The overall objectives of this R03 study are to develop survey measures critical to transnational research with migrant youth and to gather pilot data related to the proportion and characteristics of Salvadoran youth planning to migrate to the US. We use El Salvador as a starting point and plan to study other Central American countries in future work. These steps will lay the foundation for a study designed to examine the feasibility of conducting transnational research with Salvadoran migrant youth.

Title: "Migration-Related Stress among Venezuelan Immigrant Youth in the US and Colombia"

The proposed study is oriented around two interrelated objectives. The first objective relates directly to the emerging public health needs of Venezuelan immigrants; namely, to establish an evidence base on the migration-related experiences of Venezuelan immigrant youth and their families that can inform the generation of validated, culturally-tailored interventions. The second objective focuses on broader theoretical issues related to migration; namely, to test the scope of cultural stress theory by comparing migration-related stress and youth outcomes among Venezuelan migrants to the US versus those in neighboring Colombia.

Title: "Victimization among Immigrants in the United States"

The overall objective of this study is to examine the prevalence and correlates of violent and criminal victimization among immigrants in the United States. Drawing from national data, we will systematically the prevalence of an array of past year and lifetime victimization experiences among first, second, and third generation immigrants from multiple global regions. This study promises to provide critical evidence on victimization among a vulnerable population and inform the development of programs designed to address victimization and support the well-being of immigrants.
