Time to make our voices heard

Professor John H Stanfield responds to Trump’s recent racist diatribe about African countries and advises African leaders should fight back

It's high time African leaders become more strategic in how they approach the US and Europe.

Professor John H Stanfield is Distinguished Research Fellow Democracy, Governance, and Service Delivery, University of South Africa Research Council.