

Welcome to your first edition of the Quay (pronounced "key" by the way). Below you can find some events happening in Sydney this week and some important updates from the staff.

Advisors on Internships

"Make sure you have your voicemail set up on your mobiles so that you can be easily contacted for internship placement!"

Hijinks

Thursday, 11 September, 6:30PM-9:30PM

Sydney Aquarium, Darling Harbour

Dougie with a Dugong or twerk with a turtle! This event has everyone in Sydney buzzing. On Thursday evenings, the Sydney Aquarium will take on a different identity as the new after work drinks hotspot (complete with mermaids and hidden treasure). Games, music, and events will be set up below the underwater tunnels! Definitely hang onto this event for the second half of the semester when you have more free time in the evenings. Tickets are $25 and include a drink voucher.

sydneyaquarium.com.au

AFL: Sydney Swans vs. Richmond Tigers

Saturday, 30 August at 4:40PM

ANZ Stadium, Sydney Olympic Park

Catch some Aussie AFL before the season is over! The Sydney Swans have their last home game this Friday evening playing the Richmond Tigers. I repeat this is their last regular season game! This is sure to be an epic match. Buy tickets now before they sell out! Tickets are around $30. The match starts at 4:40pm.

afl.com.au

MCA Exhibit: MEKURUMEKU

Until September 7

Museum of Contemporary Art

Head down to the MCA in Circular Quay for Japanese artist Tabaimo's exhibit Mekurumeku. Mekurumeku is "a term denoting a peeling back of layers." This is a free event offering a look at a ten year span of Taibaimo's work. Her focus lies in the division of public and private spheres through the use of Japanese aesthetics and commentary, which certainly reaches across cultural bounds. The event is almost over so get down to the Quay!

mca.com.au

EVENT OF THE WEEK

Festival of Dangerous Ideas

Saturday, 30 August - Sunday, 31 August

Sydney Opera House, Bennelong Point

The Festival of Dangerous Ideas is in its 6th year as part of the 'Ideas at the House' program -- a cumulative effort of festivals and events to open up space in the Opera House for debate, discussion, and new ideas. According to the FODI website, speakers at this weekend's talks "will be tackling issues that will have us questioning our view of ourselves and our place in the world." If you're a thoughtful and engaged person... this event is for you! Past guests have included Julian Asange (via Skype), Germaine Greer, and Dan Savage, among others. Many of the events are selling out quickly so make sure you reserve your spot!!

fodi.sydneyoperahouse.com

Pascal on Emergency Protocols

"If you are traveling, don't forget to fill out a travel notification form or email me your travel details with your name, companions, dates, destination, accommodation, and flight itinerary. Also, if you get locked out, remember to call the 'RA On-Call Mobile' listed in the Housing Handbook."

Ultimo Science Festival

3-12 September

Powerhouse Museum, Harris St

Ten days of science inspired events will begin 3 September at the Powerhouse Museum just up the road! The festival is presented by UTS, the ABC, the Powerhouse Museum, and TAFE NSW. It should be worth a visit for at least one of the experiment or discussion sessions!

ultimosciencefestival.com.au

Bingham Cup 2014 - Tournament Day 3

Sunday, 31 August, 8AM-4PM

Woollahra Colleagues, Rose Bay

The Bingham Cup 2014, more colloquially known as 'the world cup of gay rugby', will feature great rugby and exciting side events culminating in the Finals this Sunday in Rose Bay! Definitely worth checking out or attending one of the other events -- head to Oxford Street in Darlinghurst to find a lot of the action. Tickets start at $10.

binghamcup.com