

Even if the weather doesn't quite always cooperate, make sure you make the most of your days and nights in Sydney. There's always something to do whether indoors or out!

Advisors on Internships

"Congratulations to those of you who secured a placement this week. For those still awaiting interviews, we appreciate your patience. Remember, communication is the name of the game!"

Yoga in the Sky

Wednesdays at 6:45am
100 Market St, Sydney CBD

What better way to battle the hump day slump than with a sun salutation 250m above the city? Yogis of all levels can enjoy breathtaking 360-degree views of the city as it rises during a 45-minute hatha class. Participants will leave with a healthy breakfast to ensure no rush to the office is necessary to ruin the calm they've acquired in class. Tickets are available from the link below for $25.

sydneytowereye.com.au/events

Beresford Sundays

Every Sunday
The Beresford, Bourke Street, Surry Hills

Head to the Beresford on Sundays and you'll find a fair portion of Sydney's gay scene enjoying $6 pints. Modern Electro tunes will keep the day going and after night falls everyone starts to migrate upstairs for a rousing dance party featuring house tunes, diva classics and current EDM favourites.

facebook.com/beresfordsundays

EVENT OF THE WEEK

Laura David: Ghost Machine

2-4 September, 7-8pm

Giant Dwarf, 199 Cleveland St, Redfern

The Perth-born stand-up brings her Award-winning Melbourne Comedy Festival show to Sydney. Ghost Machine is Laura being gently funny about life, sex, fears of death, fears of life, forks, bullying, and other guilty pleasures. It's honest and sad and self-deprecating – and watching it is like forging a new friendship on fast-forward. Check out the link and get tickets ahead of time for $17.

giantdwarf.com.au/events

Volunteer at BEAMS Art Festival

Saturday, 19 September 5-10pm

Balfour and surrounding streets, Chippendale

The Chippendale Creative Precinct represents the growing interests of the local creative community & endeavour to promote this vibrant suburb in new & exciting ways. The BEAMS Art Festival will be the most colorful event of the season and if you volunteer, a truly unique experience is in store for you. Getting a taste of the local scene from a Sydneysider's perspective is a must while you're in Sydney.

Fill out the form below to apply.

chippendalecreative.com/initiatives

Monday Night Movies at Manly Wharf Hotel

Mondays from 7pm

Manly Wharf, East Esplanade, Manly

Rug up for free screenings and cheap munchies by the beach! Manly Wharf Hotel converts its main bar into an impromptu cinema den for a cosy place to snuggle down. Along with beanbags and free popcorn, moviegoers can experience a sit-down meal service so they don't miss the flick. This coming Monday they're showing Fight Club and the next weeks are The Hangover and Mad Max (the 1979 movie).

manlywharfhotel.com.au/entertainment

Jenna on Melbourne Briefings

"Melbourne Briefing #1 will be held 9 September at 5pm and Melbourne Briefing #2 will be 16 September at 5pm. Save these dates as it is mandatory to attend!"

Jenna on Drop Bear Cup Prizes

"Big thanks to everyone who participated! If you are a member of one of the top three teams, come to the office to collect your prizes by 5pm on Friday!"